

Can you find all the answers in the quickest time?

The most significant moment in the history of trans rights
The names of two of the earliest campaigning organisations for gay rights
The time period when people began to question whether being gay should be illegal in the UK
The time period (in years) between a report recommending that being gay is decriminalised, and the year it was actually decriminalised
The law which made any same sex activity between men illegal - not just sex itself
The name of the trans man who wrote his autobiography
The last country in the UK to decriminalise being gay
The name of the law which made it illegal for schools to talk about being LGBT+
One right that trans people are still waiting for	